How to succeed in the reading paper of the C1-C2-level English examinations

Ülle Türk, University of Tartu

Abstract

In some examinations, the reading paper also includes vocabulary and grammar activities, but we will be focusing on the tasks that test reading comprehension skills. We will discuss what characterises C1- and C2-level reading texts and tasks and how they differ from B2-level texts and tasks. We will do some practice activities and discuss possible sources for reading texts of suitable difficulty.

See you at the seminar!
